CHILD PROTECTION AND SAFEGUARDING POLICY

Advent 2018

St Bernard's Preparatory School

Child protection and safeguarding policy

Mission Statement

With God as our shelter and Christ as our guide, the mission of St Bernard's Preparatory School is to educate towards love and service to God, each other and the wider community. Through our broad balanced curriculum we will develop an understanding of each faith and the values we share. We will treat each person with respect, knowing we are special and unique.

St Bernard's is part of the St Benedict's family of schools. All schools in the group share a similar Catholic and Benedictine/Bernardine ethos.

Child Protection Statement

We recognise our moral and statutory responsibility to safeguard and promote the welfare of all children. We endeavour to provide a safe and welcoming environment where children are respected and valued. We are alert to the signs of abuse and neglect and follow our procedures to ensure that children receive effective support, protection and justice. Terminology

Safeguarding and promoting the welfare of children refers to the process of protecting children from maltreatment, preventing the impairment of health or development, ensuring that children grow up in circumstances consistent with the provision of safe and effective care and taking action to enable all children to have the best outcomes.

Child protection refers to the processes undertaken to protect children who have been identified as suffering, or being at risk of suffering significant harm.

Staff refers to all those working for or on behalf of the school, full time or part time, temporary or permanent, in either a paid or voluntary capacity.

DSL refers to the Designated Safeguarding Lead at the school

Child includes everyone under the age of 18.

Parent/Carer refers to birth parents and other adults who are in a parenting role, for example step-parents, foster carers and adoptive parents.

Policy statement and principles

This policy is one of a series in the school's integrated safeguarding portfolio.

Our core safeguarding principles are:

- the school's responsibility to safeguard and promote the welfare of children is of paramount importance
- to create a culture of vigilance
- to act in the best interest of the child
- safer children make more successful learners
- staff and governors will be involved in policy development and review
- policies are reviewed annually, or earlier if required e.g. an incident or new legislation or guidance suggests the need for an interim review.

Child protection statement

We recognise our moral and statutory responsibility to safeguard and promote the welfare of all children. We endeavour to provide a safe and welcoming environment where children are respected and valued. We are alert to the signs of abuse and neglect and follow our procedures to ensure that children receive effective support, protection and justice. We are committed to safeguarding children and promoting the welfare of children and expect all staff and volunteers to share in this commitment. We teach children how to keep themselves safe at home, online, in school and within the wider community through teaching and learning opportunities, as part of a broad and balanced curriculum.

The procedures contained in this policy apply to all staff, parents/carers, peripatetic, volunteers, Governors and Trustees. They are consistent with those of the local safeguarding children board (LSCB). The document can be found on the school website and is also available in the staffroom.

Policy principles

- The welfare of the child is paramount
- All children, regardless of age, gender, ability, culture, race, language, religion or sexual identity, have equal rights to protection
- All staff have an equal responsibility to act on any suspicion or disclosure that may suggest a child is at risk of harm

- Children and staff involved in child protection issues will receive appropriate support
- St Bernard's Preparatory School recognises its responsibility to discuss with Social Care/ Social Services or the Police any significant concerns about a child or young person which may indicate:
 - physical abuse
 - emotional abuse
 - sexual abuse
 - neglect

in accordance with the LSCB procedures. Staff will work with professionalism at all times, but will never guarantee confidentiality or make promises to keep secrets.

St Bernard's Preparatory School also recognises its duty to work with other agencies in protecting children from harm and in responding to concerns about possible abuse.

St Bernard's Preparatory School will ensure that parents have an understanding of the responsibility placed on staff for safeguarding children by setting out its obligations in the school prospectus. Consent will normally be obtained from the child and/or parents/carers to share sensitive information within the school or with outside agencies. However, in exceptional circumstances, the DSL may decide there is good reason to share information without consent or override consent which isn't given.

Information on cases will be shared on a need to know basis.

Policy aims

- To ensure appropriate action is taken in a timely manner to safeguard and promote children's welfare
- To ensure all staff are aware of their statutory responsibilities with respect to safeguarding
- To ensure staff are properly trained in recognising and reporting safeguarding issues
- To provide a clear statement of the school's responsibilities in the event of a concern about the conduct of a member of staff
- To identify key individuals and their specific roles with regard to safeguarding

Safeguarding legislation and guidance

This policy is based on the Department for Education's statutory guidance, Keeping Children Safe in Education (2018) and Working Together to Safeguard Children (2018). We comply with this guidance and the procedures set out by our local safeguarding children board. The policy has been updated in line with the latest updates of these key documents.

This policy is also based on the following legislation:

Part 3 of the schedule to the Education \(Independent School Standards\) Regulations 2014, which places a duty on academies and independent schools to safeguard and promote the welfare of children at the school

Homelessness Reduction Act \(2017\)

Whistleblowing Advice Line

Relationships Education RSE and PSHE DfE Statement \(2017\)

Advice to Schools on gangs and youth violence \(2013\)

This policy also meets requirements relating to safeguarding and welfare in the statutory framework for the Early Years Foundation Stage.

We also refer to:

- The Teacher Standards 2012
- What to do if you're worried a child is being abused 2015

This policy applies to all staff (teaching and non-teaching), governors and volunteers, temporary and supply/visiting staff working in the school. It is reviewed annually by the Governing Body, and is in line with the expectations of ISI which inspects safeguarding arrangements as part of the school's Leadership and Management and the requirements of the (Local) Safeguarding Children Board (LSCB).

Staff code of conduct

It is compulsory that all new and current staff read and understand Part one of Keeping Children Safe in Education (DfE 2018). All current and new staff must also read and understand KCSIE Annex A. This is a compulsory element of our induction safeguarding training. These documents are available on the safeguarding board in the staff room.

All staff must:

- treat all children with respect
- set a good example by conducting ourselves appropriately
- involve children in decisions that affect them
- encourage positive, respectful and safe behaviour among children

- be a good listener
- be alert to changes in children's' behaviour and to signs of abuse, neglect and exploitation
- recognise that challenging behaviour may be an indicator of abuse
- read and understanding the school's child protection policy, staff behaviour policy and guidance documents on wider safeguarding issues including KCSIE (DfE 2018) and Annex A
- be aware that the personal and family circumstances and lifestyles of some children lead to an increased risk of abuse
- refer all concerns about a child's safety and welfare to the DSL, or, if necessary directly to police or children's social care

All staff must be clear that all verbal conversations, disclosures and allegations must be recorded promptly in writing with the date and time. All information should be recorded verbatim and no leading questions should be asked and in particular avoid the 'W' questions (who, what, where, when, why).

All concern forms must be delivered directly and promptly to the DSL.

Please refer to the Staff Conduct, Grievances and Discipline Policy within the Safeguarding Portfolio and the Code of Conduct included in the Staff Handbook.

Family Contact

Two emergency contacts are kept for each child as outlined in 'Keeping Children Safe in Education' (2018). These emergency contacts are recorded on SIMS and can be accessed by all members of staff. In the event of a system error, hard copies of these contact details are kept in the office in a locked filing cabinet.

Mobile Phones

Mobile phones are not permitted to be used at any time in the classroom. Mobile phones may only be used in the staff room and school office. At all times, when in the classroom, mobiles must be switched off. Mobile phones should not be used to take photos of children for assessment purposes; all classes are issued with a digital camera/iPad for this purpose. If staff fail to follow this guidance, disciplinary action will be taken in accordance with our School disciplinary policy.

Abuse of position of trust

All school staff are aware that inappropriate behaviour towards children is unacceptable and that their conduct towards children must be beyond reproach.

Staff understand that under the Sexual Offences Act 2003 it is an offence for a person over the age of 18 to have a sexual relationship with a person under the age of 18, where that person is in a position of trust, even if the relationship is consensual. This means that any sexual activity between a member of the school staff and a child under 18 may be a criminal offence.

The school's Staff Code of Conduct sets out our expectations of staff and is signed by all staff members.

Children who may be particularly vulnerable

Some children may have an increased risk of abuse. Many factors can contribute to an increase in risk, including prejudice and discrimination, isolation, social exclusion, communication issues and reluctance on the part of some adults to accept that abuse can occur. To ensure that all of our children receive equal protection, we will give special consideration to children who are:

- disabled or have special educational needs
- young carers
- affected by parental substance misuse, domestic violence or parental mental health needs
- asylum seekers
- living away from home
- vulnerable to being bullied, or engaging in bullying
- living in temporary accommodation
- live transient lifestyles

- living in chaotic and unsupportive home situations
- vulnerable to discrimination and maltreatment on the grounds of race, ethnicity, religion, disability or sexuality
- at risk of sexual exploitation
- do not have English as a first language
- at risk of female genital mutilation (FGM)
- at risk of hate crime motivated by prejudice on the basis of race, religion, sexual orientation, or other grounds.
- At risk of homophobic/transphobic abuse
- at risk of forced marriage
- at risk of being drawn into extremism.

This list provides examples of additionally vulnerable groups and is not exhaustive.

Children missing education

Attendance, absence and exclusions are closely monitored as knowing where children are during school hours is an extremely important aspect of safeguarding. A child going missing from education is a potential indicator of abuse and neglect, including sexual abuse and sexual exploitation. It may also indicate mental health problems, risk of substance abuse, risk of travelling to conflict zones, risk of female genital mutilation or risk of forced marriage. Early intervention is necessary to identify the existence of any underlying safeguarding risk and to help prevent the risks of a child going missing in the future. The DSL will monitor unauthorised absence and take appropriate action including notifying the local authority, particularly where children go missing on repeated occasions and/or are missing for periods during the school day. Staff must be alert to signs of children at risk of travelling to conflict zones, female genital mutilation and forced marriage.

Further guidance can be found in KCSIE (2018) and in 'Children missing education: statutory guidance for local authorities' (September 2016) <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/children-missing-education>

Whistleblowing

Staff who are concerned about the conduct of a colleague towards a child are placed in a difficult situation. They may worry that they have misunderstood the situation and they will wonder whether a report could jeopardise their colleague's career. All staff must remember that the welfare of the child is paramount. The school's Whistleblowing Policy, part of the Safeguarding Portfolio, enables staff to raise concerns or allegations, initially in confidence and for a sensitive enquiry to take place. All concerns of poor practice or possible child abuse by colleagues should be reported to the Headmaster. Complaints about the Headmaster should be reported to the Chair of Governors. Staff may also report their concerns directly to children's social care or the police if they believe direct reporting is necessary to secure action.

Further advice can be found at: <https://www.nspcc.org.uk/what-you-can-do/report-abuse/dedicated-helplines/whistleblowing-advice-line/>

Allegations against staff

When an allegation is made against a member of staff, our set procedures must be followed. The full procedures for dealing with allegations against staff can be found in Keeping Children Safe in Education (DfE, 2018) and in the school's Allegations of Abuse Against Staff Policy. Allegations concerning staff no longer employed by the school, or historical allegations will be reported to the police and to the DBS or NTCL (now Teaching Regulation Agency (TRA)).

Staff training

All staff new and current must read and understand the Staff Code of Conduct outlined in the Staff Handbook, which clearly explains the school's policy on whistleblowing, acceptable use of IT, staff/child relationships and communication including the use of social media. The Staff Handbook can be found in the staff room. All staff, including governors and volunteers, receive Level 1 safeguarding awareness training to enable them to recognise the possible signs of abuse, neglect and exploitation and to know what to do if they have a concern. Training is also provided for all staff on preventing terrorism and specific issues including Female Genital Mutilation (FGM) and child sexual exploitation. St Bernard's Preparatory School's training is delivered on an annual basis for all staff to provide them with relevant skills and knowledge to safeguard children effectively and to ensure they fully understand their safeguarding responsibilities.

New staff and Governors will receive a briefing during their induction, which includes the school's Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy, reporting and recording arrangements, expected standards of behaviour for all staff at St Bernard's Preparatory School and details of the DSL. All staff, including the DSL, Headmaster (unless the Headmaster is the DSL) and Governors will receive training that is regularly updated as required, but at least annually. All staff will also receive safeguarding and child protection updates via email and staff meetings throughout the year. The DSL and deputy DSL receive Level 3 safeguarding and DSL training every 2 years. They also receive update and refresher training at regular intervals, at least annually.

Safer recruitment training is delivered to all relevant staff and governors who are involved in the recruitment process. One every recruitment panel, there must be at least one staff member and one governor who have completed the safer recruitment training.

Safer recruitment

Our school complies with the requirements of Keeping Children Safe in Education (DfE 2018) and the LSCB by carrying out the required checks and verifying the applicant's identity, qualifications, prohibitions, work history and personal disqualifications under the childcare act. As of September 1st 2018, we no longer ask questions about cautions or convictions of someone living in a staff member's household as disqualification by association is no longer possible (KCSIE, 2018). The school's Safer Recruitment Policy and Procedures set out the process in full and can be found in the Safeguarding Portfolio.

At least one member of each recruitment panel will have attended safer recruitment training.

All new members of staff will undergo an induction that includes familiarisation with the school's Child Protection and Safeguarding Policy and identification of their child protection training needs.

All staff sign to confirm they have received a copy of the Safeguarding Children Policy.

Trainee teachers will be checked by the training provider, from whom written confirmation will be obtained.

All checks on alternative providers must be provided to the school in a written format.

The school maintains a Single Central Record of recruitment checks undertaken and this is updated regularly.

S128 prohibition checks are completed for senior leadership team members, the head teacher and governors.

Volunteers

Volunteers, including Governors will undergo checks commensurate with their work in the school, their contact with children and the supervision provided to them. Under no circumstances will a volunteer who has not been appropriately checked be left unsupervised. The school will risk assess all volunteers to decide whether to obtain an enhanced DBS checks for any volunteer not engaging in regulated activity.

Contractors

The school checks the identity of all contractors working on site and requests DBS with barred list checks where required by statutory guidance. Contractors who have not undergone checks will not be allowed to work unsupervised during the school day.

Site security

Visitors to the school, including contractors, are asked to sign in and are given a badge, which confirms they have permission to be on site. Visitors are given a summary of the safeguarding policy and procedures on arrival. Parents who are simply delivering or collecting their children do not need to sign in. All visitors are expected to observe the school's safeguarding and health and safety regulations. The head teacher will exercise professional judgement in determining whether any visitor should be escorted or supervised while on site.

Children who are arriving late for school or leaving early are signed in and out at the office by their parents/carers. Access to the school carpark and front door are monitored by office staff using an intercom system between the hours of 8am and 5pm.

Extended school and off-site arrangements

All extended and off site activities are subject to a risk assessment to satisfy health and safety and safeguarding requirements. Where extended school activities are provided by and managed by the school, our own child protection policy and procedures apply. If other organisations provide services or activities on our site on behalf of our school we will check that they have appropriate procedures in place, including safer recruitment procedures.

When our children attend off-site activities, including day and residential visits and work related activities, we will check that effective child protection arrangements are in place.

Staff/child online relationships

Mobile phones and computers are a source of fun, entertainment, communication and education. However, we know that some adults and young people will use these technologies to harm children. The harm might range from sending hurtful or abusive texts and emails, to enticing children to engage in sexually harmful conversations online, webcam filming, photography or face-to-face meetings. The St Bernard's Preparatory School's ICT Policy explains how we try to keep children safe online. Cyber-bullying by children, via texts and emails, will be treated as seriously as any other type of bullying and will be managed through our Anti-Bullying Policy and Procedures. Chatrooms and social networking sites are the more obvious sources of inappropriate and harmful behaviour and children are not allowed to access these sites in school.

Raising Awareness

At St Bernard's we disseminate and promote our safeguarding policy by:

- displaying the policy in the staffroom along with posters outlining the school's and local authorities safeguarding procedures, including raising concerns about a child and how to make a child protection referral.
- ensuring safeguarding is first on the agenda at meetings (including SLT, SMT and whole staff meeting and briefings). All information is handled sensitively and any issues are followed up by the DSL in more depth.
- putting posters up around the school so children and parents know who to speak to should they have a concern about a child.
- keeping our site secure at all times
- providing regular termly updates for all staff
- publishing our policy on the school website
- circulating regular updates to parents/carers through the school newsletter

All staff at St Bernard's will have signed to show they have read:

- Part 1 and Annex A of Keeping children safe in Education (2018)
- the school's code of conduct
- the school's safeguarding policy

School leaders and staff working directly with children will also have read parts 2, 3, 4 and 5 of Keeping Children Safe in Education (2018) along with all the appendices.

All children at St Bernard's will receive Relationship and Sex Education (RSE) in line with the Children and Social Work Act (2017) and they will also be taught safeguarding through PSHE lessons. Further guidance can be found at: <http://www.gov.uk/government/publications/relationships-education-rse-and-pshe>

Child protection procedures

Recognising abuse

Abuse and neglect are forms of maltreatment. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm, for example by hitting them, or by failing to act to prevent harm, for example by leaving a small child home alone.

Abuse may be committed by adult men or women and by other children and young people. To ensure that our children are protected from harm, we need to understand what types of behaviour constitute abuse and neglect.

Keeping Children Safe in Education (DfE 2018) refers to four categories of abuse. These are set out in Appendix 1 along with indicators of abuse.

Bullying

While bullying between children is not a separate category of abuse and neglect, it is a very serious issue that can cause anxiety and distress. All incidences of bullying, including cyber-bullying and prejudice-based bullying should be reported and will be managed through our anti-bullying procedures. The policy is part of the safeguarding portfolio.

Taking action

Any child, in any family in any school could become a victim of abuse. Staff should always maintain an attitude of "it could happen here".

Key points for staff to remember for taking action are:

- in an emergency take the action necessary to help the child, if necessary call 999
- report your concern as soon as possible to the DSL, definitely by the end of the day
- do not start your own investigation
- share information on a need-to-know basis only – do not discuss the issue with colleagues, friends or family
- complete a record of concern
- seek support for yourself if you are distressed.

Early Help

Schools can seek advice from FIRST Early Help Service about services available to support children in need of additional support. In addition, children and families deemed to be at level 2 on the Slough Safeguarding Continuum of Needs must also be referred to FIRST.

Any child may benefit from early help, but staff must be particularly alert to the potential need for early help for a child who:

- Is disabled and has a specific additional need
- Has special education needs
- Is a young carer
- Is showing signs of being drawn in to anti-social or criminal behaviour, including gang involvement and association with organised crime groups
- Is frequently missing/goes missing from care or from home
- Is misusing drugs or alcohol themselves
- Is at risk of modern slavery, trafficking or exploitation
- Is in a family circumstance presenting challenges for the child, such as substance abuse, adult mental health problems or domestic abuse
- Has returned home to their family from care

- Is showing early signs of abuse and/or neglect
- Is at risk of being radicalised or exploited
- Is a privately fostered child.

All safeguarding incidents and/or behaviours can be associated with factors outside the school and/or can occur between children outside the school. All staff, but especially the designated safeguarding lead (or deputy) will consider the context within which such incidents and/or behaviours occur. This is known as contextual safeguarding, which simply means assessments of children should consider whether wider environmental factors are present in a child's life that are a threat to their safety and/or welfare. (KCSIE, 2018)

Peer on peer abuse

Children may be harmed by other children or young people. Staff will be aware of the harm caused by bullying and will use the school's anti-bullying procedures where necessary. However, there will be occasions when a child's behaviour warrants a response under child protection rather than anti-bullying procedures.

Peer on peer abuse can take many forms, including:

- physical abuse such as biting, hitting, kicking or hair pulling
- sexually harmful behaviour/sexual abuse such as inappropriate sexual language, touching, sexual assault, sexual violence and sexual harassment.
- sexting, including pressuring another person to send a sexual imagery or video content
- teenage relationship abuse - defined as a pattern of actual or threatened acts of physical, sexual or emotional abuse, perpetrated against a current or former partner
- initiation/hazing - used to induct newcomers into an organisation such as sports team or school groups by subjecting them to a series of potentially humiliating, embarrassing or abusing trials which promote a bond between them
- prejudiced behaviour - a range of behaviours which causes someone to feel powerless, worthless or excluded and which relates to prejudices around belonging, identity and equality, in particular prejudices linked to disabilities, special educational needs, ethnic, cultural and religious backgrounds, gender and sexual identity.
- bullying including cyber bullying
- Hate crime motivated by prejudice on the basis of race, religion, sexual orientation, or other grounds.
- Homophobic/transphobic abuse

Abuse is abuse and should never be tolerated or passed off as 'banter' or 'part of growing up'. All incidents of peer on peer abuse will be taken seriously. Different gender issues can be prevalent when dealing with peer on peer abuse, for example girls being sexually touched/assaulted or boys being subject to initiation/hazing type violence.

At St Bernard's, we believe that all children have a right to attend school and learn in a safe environment. Children should be free from harm by adults in the school and other students. We recognise that some students' behaviour will sometimes negatively affect the learning and well-being of others and their behaviour will be dealt with under the school's behaviour policy.

At our school, we take the following steps to minimise or prevent the risk of peer on peer abuse.

- An open and honest environment where young people feel safe to share information about anything that is upsetting or worrying them.
- Assemblies are used to provide a moral framework outlining acceptable behaviour and stressing the effects of bullying.
- RE and PSHE are used to reinforce the message through stories, role play, current affairs and other suitable activities.

- Staff will endeavour always to create surroundings where everyone feels confident and at ease in school.
- We will ensure that the school is well supervised, especially in areas where children might be vulnerable.

All allegations of peer on peer abuse should be passed to the DSL immediately. They will then be investigated and dealt with as follows:

- Information gathering – children, staff and witnesses will be spoken with as soon as possible to gather relevant information quickly to understand the situation and assess whether there was intent to cause harm.
- Decide on action – if it is believed that any young person is at risk of significant harm, a referral will be made to children’s social care. The DSL will then work with children’s social care to decide on next steps, which may include contacting the police.
- Inform parents - as with other concerns of abuse, the school will normally seek to discuss concerns about a child with parents. Our focus is the safety and wellbeing of the child and so if the school believes that notifying parents could increase the risk to the child or exacerbate the problem, advice will first be sought from children’s social care and/or the police before parents are contacted.

Supporting those involved

The support required for the child who has been harmed will depend on their circumstance and the nature of the abuse. Support could include counselling, mentoring, the support of family and friends and/or support with improving peer relationships or some restorative justice work.

Support may also be required for the child that harmed. We will seek to understand why the child acted in this way and consider what support may be required to help the child and/or change behaviours. Once those needs have been met, the consequences for the harm caused or intended will be addressed.

Sexting

There is no accepted definition of ‘sexting’ but most professionals agree that it refers to the sending or posting of sexually suggestive images, including nude or semi-nude photographs of a person under 18 years of age, via mobiles or over the internet. The UKCCIS advice document refers to this as ‘youth produced sexual imagery’.

All incidents involving youth produced sexual imagery will be responded to as follows:

- The incident will be referred to the DSL immediately and the DSL will hold an initial review meeting with appropriate staff. If appropriate, there will be subsequent interviews with the young people involved.
- Parents will be informed at an early stage and involved in the process unless there is good reason to believe that involving parents would put the young person at risk of harm.
- At any point in the process, if there is a concern a young person has been harmed or is at risk of harm a referral will be made to children’s social care and/or the police immediately in accordance with this policy.

In some instances, it may be necessary to refer the matter to the police. Once a report is made to the police, the report must be recorded and the police will investigate. This may include seizure of devices and interviews with the young people involved.

Further guidance on sexting and responding to incidents has been provided by the UK council for Child internet safety (UKCCIS, 2016) at <http://www.gov.uk/government/groups/uk-council-for-child-internet-safety-ukccis>

Children and sexually harmful behaviour

Children may be harmed by other children or young people. Staff will be aware of the harm caused by bullying and will use the school's Anti-Bullying Policy where necessary. However, there will be occasions when a child's behaviour warrants a response under child protection rather than anti-bullying procedures.

Young people who display such behaviour may be victims of abuse themselves and the child protection procedures will be followed for both victim and perpetrator. Staff who become concerned about a child's sexual behaviour, including any known online sexual behaviour, should speak to the DSL as soon as possible.

Guidance from the DfE (2017) can be found at:

<https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/sexual-violence-and-sexual-harassment-between-children-in-schools-and-colleges>

If you are concerned about a child's welfare

There will be occasions when staff may suspect that a child may be at risk. The child's behaviour may have changed, their artwork could be bizarre, and they may write stories or poetry that reveal confusion or distress, or physical signs may have been noticed. In these circumstances, staff will try to give the child the opportunity to talk and ask if they are OK or if they can help in any way.

Staff should use the welfare concern form (Appendix 5) to record these early concerns promptly. If the child does reveal that they are being harmed, staff should follow the advice below. Following an initial conversation with the child, if the member of staff has concerns, they should discuss their concerns with the DSL as soon as possible and provide the written record of the concern.

If a child discloses to you

It takes a lot of courage for a child to disclose that they are being abused. They may feel ashamed, particularly if the abuse is sexual; their abuser may have threatened what will happen if they tell; they may have lost all trust in adults; or they may believe, or have been told, that the abuse is their own fault. Sometimes they may not be aware that what is happening is abusive.

If a child talks to a member of staff about any risks to their safety or wellbeing, the staff member will, at the appropriate time, let the child know that in order to help them they must pass the information on to the DSL. The point at which they tell the child this is a matter for professional judgement. During their conversations with the children staff will:

- allow them to speak freely
- remain calm and not overreact
- give reassuring nods or words of comfort – 'I'm so sorry this has happened', 'I want to help', 'This isn't your fault', 'You are doing the right thing in talking to me'
- not be afraid of silences
- under no circumstances ask investigative questions – such as how many times this has happened, whether it happens to siblings, or what does the child's mother think about it
- at an appropriate time tell the child that in order to help them, the member of staff must pass the information on and explain to whom and why
- not automatically offer any physical touch as comfort
- avoid admonishing the child for not disclosing earlier. Saying things such as 'I do wish you had told me about this when it started' may be interpreted by the child to mean that they have done something wrong
- tell the child what will happen next
- report verbally to the DSL even if the child has promised to do it by themselves
- complete the Welfare Concern Form (Appendix 5) and hand it to the DSL as soon as possible
- seek support if they feel distressed.

Notifying parents/carers

The school will normally seek to discuss any concerns about a child with their parents. This must be handled sensitively and the DSL will make contact with the parent in the event of a concern, suspicion or disclosure.

Our focus is the safety and wellbeing of the child. Therefore, if the school believes that notifying parents could increase the risk to the child or exacerbate the problem, advice will first be sought from children's social care and/or the police before parents are contacted.

Confidentiality and sharing information

All staff will understand that child protection issues warrant a high level of confidentiality, not only out of respect for the children and staff involved but also to ensure that information being released into the public domain does not compromise evidence.

Staff should only discuss concerns with the DSL, Headmaster or Chair of Governors (as appropriate). The latter will decide who else needs to have the information and they will disseminate it on a 'need-to-know' basis.

However, following a number of cases where senior leaders in school have failed to act upon concerns raised by staff, Keeping Children Safe in Education (2016) emphasises that any member of staff can contact children's social care if they are concerned about a child.

Child protection information will be stored and handled in line with the Data Protection Act 1998. Information sharing is guided by the following principles. The information is:

- necessary and proportionate
- relevant
- adequate
- accurate
- timely
- secure.

Information sharing decisions will be recorded, whether or not the decision is taken to share. Record of concern forms and other written information will be stored in a locked facility and any electronic information will be password protected and only made available to relevant individuals.

Child protection information will be stored separately from the child's school file and the school file will be 'tagged' to indicate that separate information is held.

The DSL will normally obtain consent from the child and/or parents to share sensitive information within the school or with outside agencies. Where there is good reason to do so, the DSL may share information without consent, and will record the reason for not obtaining consent.

Child protection records are normally exempt from the disclosure provisions of the Data Protection Act, which means that children and parents do not have an automatic right to see them. If any member of staff receives a request from a child or parent to see child protection records, they will refer the request to the Headmaster.

DSL will attend and contribute to any professionals meetings including child in need and children protection matters to promote the welfare of the child. During these meetings child protection information will be shared with relevant professionals.

The Data Protection Act does not prevent school staff from sharing information with relevant agencies, where that information may help to protect a child.

The school's Confidentiality Policy is available to parents and children on request and is contained in the Safeguarding Portfolio.

Child protection records will be kept for 25 years before destroying.

Referral to children's social care

The DSL will make a referral to children's social care if it is believed that a child is suffering or is at risk of suffering significant harm. The child (subject to their age and understanding) and the parents will be told that a referral is being made, unless to do so would increase the risk to the child.

Any member of staff may make a direct referral to children's social care if they genuinely believe independent action is necessary to protect a child.

Reporting directly to child protection agencies

Staff should follow the reporting procedures outlined in this policy. However, they may also share information directly with children's social care, police or the NSPCC if:

- the situation is an emergency and the DSL, Deputy DSL, Headmaster or Chair of Governors are all unavailable
- they are convinced that a direct report is the only way to ensure the child's safety
- for any other reason they make a judgement that direct referral is in the best interests of the child.

Responding and Referring:

- Any member of staff who has concerns about the safety or potential abuse of a child must report their concerns to the DSL without delay.
- In accordance with local inter-agency procedures, the agreement of the child's parent for an external referral should normally be sought where possible. However, if it is felt that seeking any such agreement would increase the level of risk of harm to the child, the matter will be discussed with Social Care/ Social Services and their advice sought first. This must not contribute to a delay in making a referral.
- St Bernard's Preparatory School will ensure that the relevant social worker is notified if there is an unexplained absence of any child who is currently subject to a child protection plan. When discussing concerns in respect of a child who is Looked After by the Local Authority the child's named social worker must be informed.

Sexual exploitation of children

Sexual exploitation involves an individual or group of adults taking advantage of the vulnerability of an individual or groups of children or young people, and victims can be boys or girls. Children and young people are often unwittingly drawn into sexual exploitation through the offer of friendship and care, gifts, drugs and alcohol, and sometimes accommodation. Sexual exploitation is a serious crime and can have a long-lasting adverse impact on a child's physical and emotional health. It may also be linked to child trafficking.

The school includes the risks of sexual exploitation in the PSHE curriculum. A common feature of sexual exploitation is that the child often does not recognise the coercive nature of the relationship and does not see themselves as a victim. The child may initially resent what they perceive as interference by staff, but staff must act on their concerns, as they would for any other type of abuse. All staff are made aware of the indicators of sexual exploitation and all concerns are reported immediately to the DSL. The school has a mandatory duty to report incidents of child sexual exploitation immediately to the police.

Child Criminal Exploitation/Trafficking: County Lines

Criminal exploitation of children is a geographically widespread form of harm that is a typical feature of county lines criminal activity. County lines refers to gangs and organised crime networks, who groom and exploit children to carry and sell drugs and money. Often, these children are made to travel across counties from urban areas to suburban and rural areas, markets and seaside towns. While some children are coerced many are tricked through promises of education or respectable work. Children are considered trafficking victims regardless of whether they have been forced, deceived, or have submitted willingly. Child criminal exploitation is an example of modern-day slavery.

If staff suspect that a child is involved in criminal exploitation, it must be reported to the DSL immediately.

Further guidance can be found at: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/advice-to-schools-and-colleges-on-gangs-and-youth-violence>

Honour-Based Violence

'Honour-based' violence (HBV) encompasses crimes which have been committed to protect or defend the honour of the family and/or the community, including Female Genital Mutilation (FGM), forced marriage, and practices such as breast ironing. All forms of HBV are abuse regardless of the motivation and should be handled and escalated appropriately through the DSL.

FGM is the collective name given to a range of procedures involving the partial or total removal of external female genitalia for non-medical reasons. In England, Wales and Northern Ireland, the practice is a criminal offence under the Female Genital Mutilation Act 2003. The practice can cause intense pain and distress and long-term health consequences, including difficulties in childbirth. FGM is carried out on girls of any age, from young babies to older teenagers and adult women, so school staff are trained to be aware of risk indicators. Many such procedures are carried out abroad and staff should be particularly alert to suspicions or concerns expressed by female children about going on a long holiday during the summer vacation period. The school has a mandatory duty to report suspicions and incidents of FGM immediately to the police under section 74 of the Serious Crime Act (2015).

A forced marriage is a marriage in which a female (and sometimes a male) does not consent to the marriage but is coerced into it. Coercion may include physical, psychological, financial, sexual and emotional pressure. It may also involve physical or sexual violence and abuse. In England and Wales the practice is a criminal offence under the Anti-Social Behaviour, Crime and Policing Act 2014. A forced marriage is not the same as an arranged marriage. In an arranged marriage, which is common in several cultures, the families of both spouses take a leading role in arranging the marriage but the choice of whether or not to accept the arrangement remains with the prospective spouses.

Children may be married at a very young age, and well below the age of consent in England. School staff receive training and should be particularly alert to suspicions or concerns raised by a child about being taken abroad and not be allowed to return to England.

Radicalisation and Extremism

The government defines extremism as vocal or active opposition to fundamental British values, including democracy, the rule of law, individual liberty and mutual respect and tolerance of different faiths and beliefs.

Some children are at risk of being radicalised: adopting beliefs and engaging in activities which are harmful, criminal or dangerous. Islamic extremism is the most widely publicised form and schools should also remain alert to the risk of radicalisation into white supremacy extremism.

The school has a duty under the Counter Terrorism and Security Act (2015) –‘The Prevent’ Duty’ – to train staff to help to identify signs of extremism and educate children appropriately. Opportunities are provided in the curriculum to enable children to discuss issues of religion, ethnicity and culture and the school follows the DfE advice Promoting fundamental British Values as part of PSHE (personal social health education) in Schools (2014).

All incidents or suspicions of radicalisation and extremism must be reported to the DSL who has a mandatory duty to immediately contact the police.

Private fostering arrangements

A private fostering arrangement occurs when someone other than a parent or a close relative cares for a child for a period of 28 days or more, with the agreement of the child’s parents. It applies to children under the age of 16, or aged under 18 if the child is disabled. By law, a parent, private foster carer or other persons involved in making a private fostering arrangement must notify children’s services as soon as possible. We follow the guidance issued by Slough’s LSCB.

Where a member of staff becomes aware that a child may be in a private fostering arrangement they will raise this with the DSL and the school should notify the local authority of the circumstances.

We also refer to: <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/children-act-1989-private-fostering>

Homelessness

The Homelessness Reduction Act (2017) places a new legal duty on English councils so that everyone who is homeless or at risk of homelessness will have access to meaningful help including an assessment of their needs and circumstances, the development of a personalised housing plan, and work to help them retain their accommodation or find a new place to live.

Indicators that a family may be at risk of homelessness include household debt, rent arrears, domestic abuse and anti-social behaviour, as well as the family being asked to leave a property.

If a staff member suspects a child’s family may be experiencing any of the above difficulties, they must pass the concerns onto the DSL. The DSL and deputies are aware of contact details and referral routes in to the Local Housing Authority, so they can raise/progress concerns at the earliest opportunity.

Special Circumstances

Looked after children

The most common reason for children becoming looked after is as a result of abuse or neglect. The school ensures that staff have the necessary skills and understanding to keep looked after children safe. Appropriate staff have information about a child’s looked after legal status and care arrangements, including the level of authority delegated to the carer by the authority looking after the child. The designated teacher for looked after children and the DSL have details of the child’s social worker and the name and contact details of the local authority's virtual head for children in care.

Appendix 1: Keeping Children Safe in Education (DfE 2018) – Four categories of abuse.

Abuse is a form of maltreatment of a child. Somebody may abuse or neglect a child by inflicting harm or by failing to act to prevent harm. Children may be abused in a family or in an institutional or community setting by those known to them or, more rarely, by others. Abuse can take place wholly online, or technology may be used to facilitate offline abuse. Children may be abused by an adult or adults or by another child or children.

Four Categories of Abuse

Physical abuse

A form of abuse which may involve hitting, shaking, throwing, poisoning, burning or scalding, drowning, suffocating or otherwise causing physical harm to a child. Physical harm may also be caused when a parent or carer fabricates the symptoms of, or deliberately induces, illness in a child.

Emotional abuse

The persistent emotional maltreatment of a child such as to cause severe and adverse effects on the child's emotional development. It may involve conveying to a child that they are worthless or unloved, inadequate, or valued only insofar as they meet the needs of another person. It may include not giving the child opportunities to express their views, deliberately silencing them or 'making fun' of what they say or how they communicate. It may feature age or developmentally inappropriate expectations being imposed on children. These may include interactions that are beyond a child's developmental capability as well as overprotection and limitation of exploration and learning, or preventing the child from participating in normal social interaction. It may involve seeing or hearing the ill-treatment of another. It may involve serious bullying (including cyberbullying), causing children frequently to feel frightened or in danger, or the exploitation or corruption of children. Some level of emotional abuse is involved in all types of maltreatment of a child, although it may occur alone.

Sexual abuse

Involves forcing or enticing a child or young person to take part in sexual activities, not necessarily involving a high level of violence, whether or not the child is aware of what is happening. The activities may involve physical contact, including assault by penetration (for example rape or oral sex) or non-penetrative acts such as masturbation, kissing, rubbing and touching outside of clothing. They may also include non-contact activities, such as involving children in looking at, or in the production of, sexual images, watching sexual activities, encouraging children to behave in sexually inappropriate ways, or grooming a child in preparation for abuse. Sexual abuse can take place online, and technology can be used to facilitate offline abuse. Sexual abuse is not solely perpetrated by adult males. Women can also commit acts of sexual abuse, as can other children. The sexual abuse of children by other children is a specific safeguarding issue in education.

Neglect: the persistent failure to meet a child's basic physical and/or psychological needs, likely to result in the serious impairment of the child's health or development. Neglect may occur during pregnancy, for example, as a result of maternal substance abuse. Once a child is born, neglect may involve a parent or carer failing to: provide adequate food, clothing and shelter (including exclusion from home or abandonment); protect a child from physical and emotional harm or danger; ensure adequate supervision (including the use of inadequate care-givers); or ensure access to appropriate medical care or treatment. It may also include neglect of, or unresponsiveness to, a child's basic emotional needs.

Indicators of abuse

Physical signs define some types of abuse, for example, bruising, bleeding or broken bones resulting from physical or sexual abuse, or injuries sustained while a child has been inadequately supervised. The identification of physical signs is complicated, as children may go to great lengths to hide injuries, often because they are ashamed or embarrassed, or their abuser has threatened further violence or trauma if they 'tell'. It is also quite difficult for anyone without medical training to categorise injuries into accidental or deliberate with any degree of certainty. For these reasons it is vital that staff are also aware of the range of behavioural indicators of abuse and report any concerns to the designated safeguarding lead.

It is the responsibility of staff to report their concerns. It is not their responsibility to investigate or decide whether a child has been abused.

A child who is being abused, neglected or exploited may:

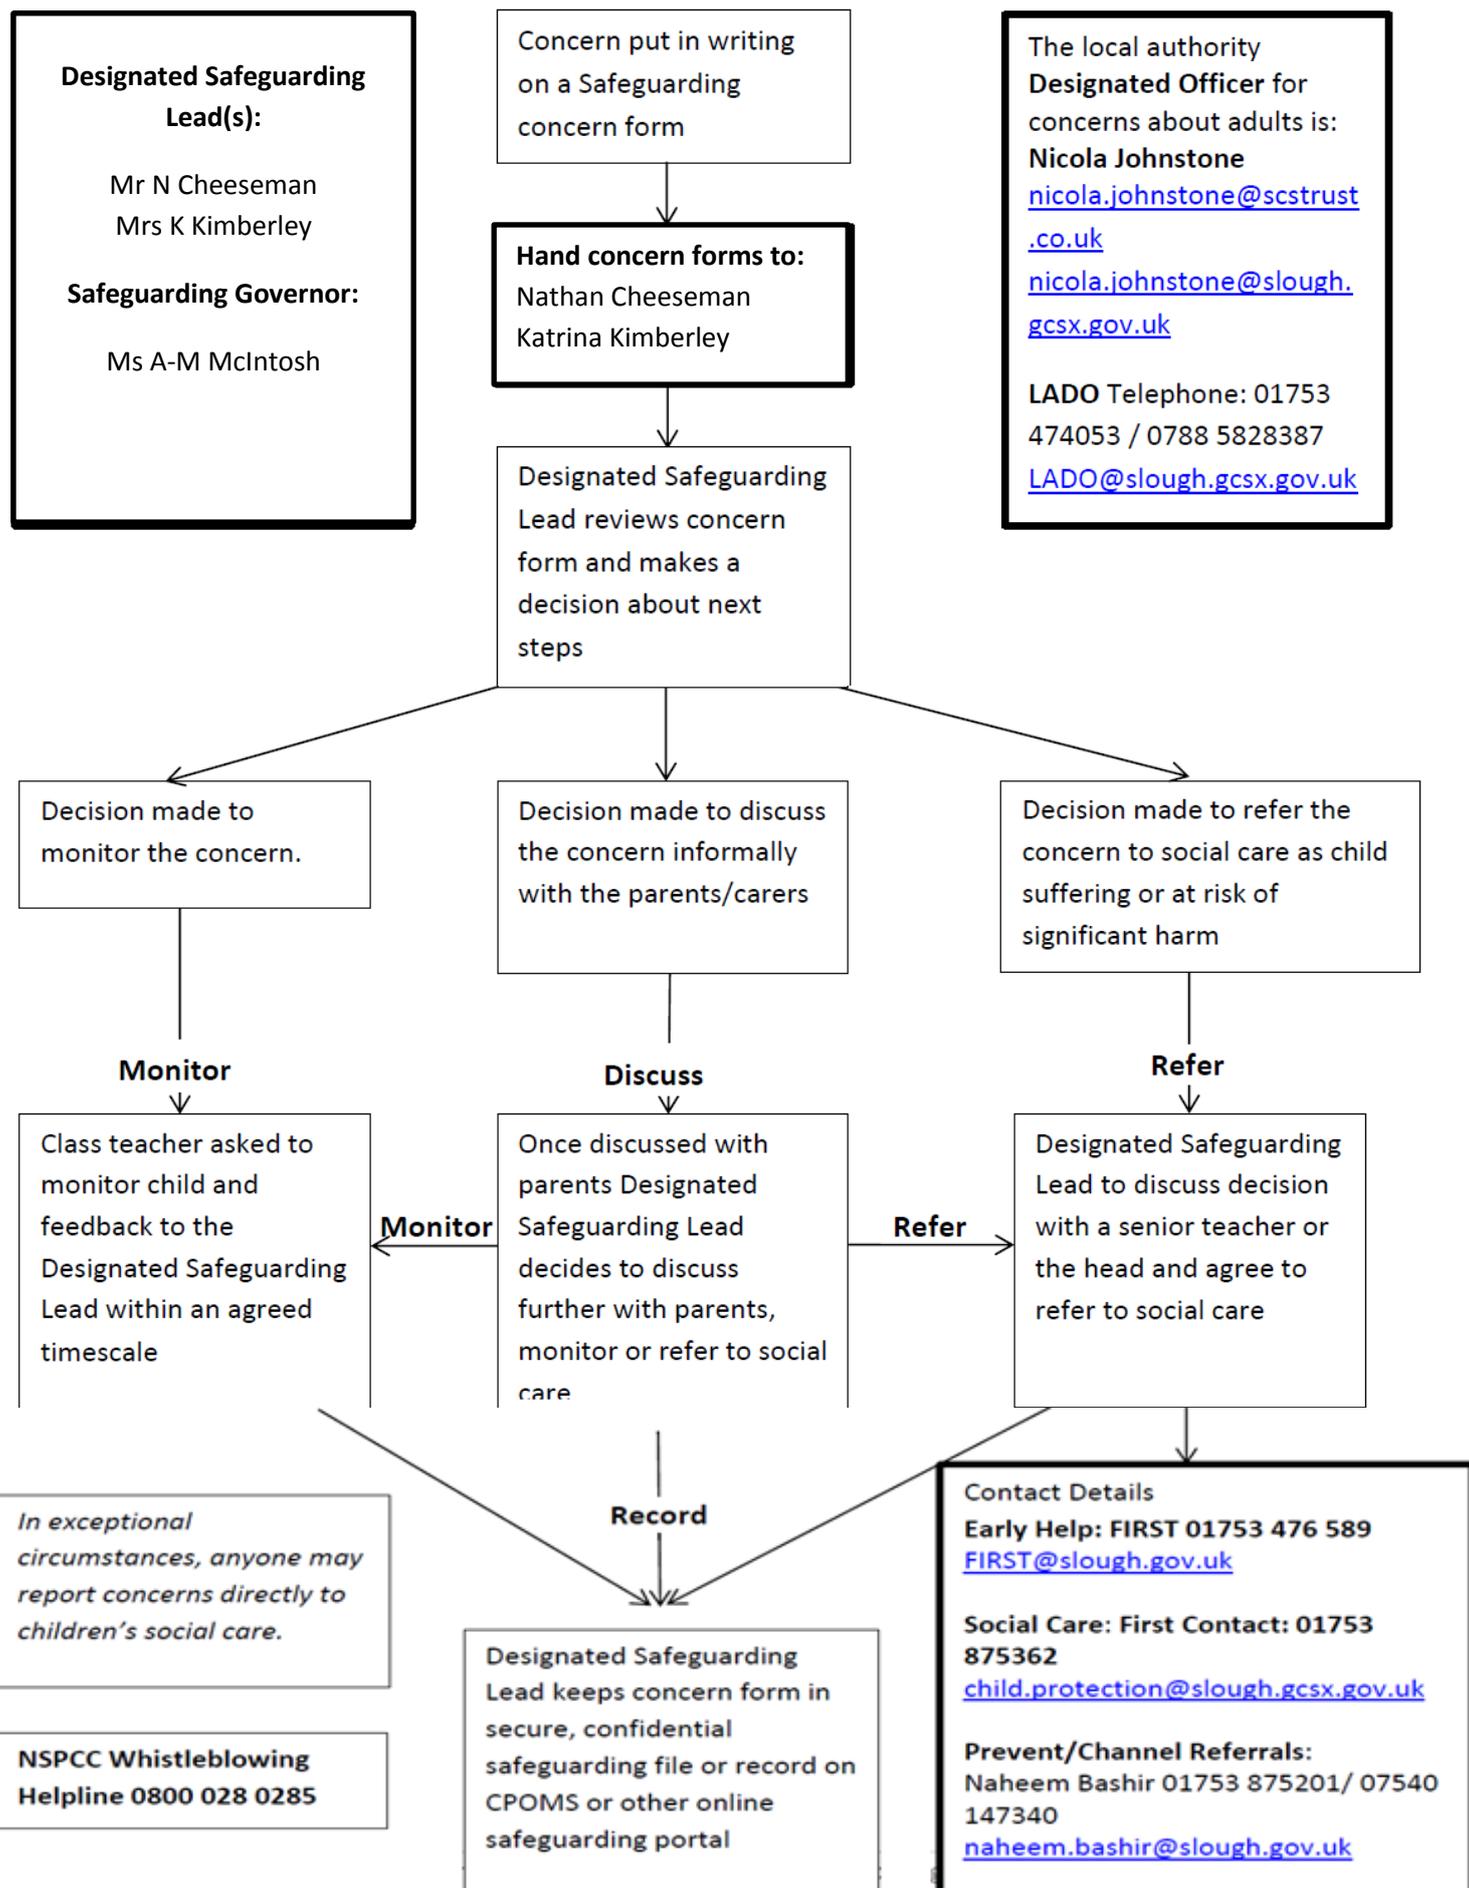

- have bruises, bleeding, burns, fractures or other injuries
- show signs of pain or discomfort
- keep arms and legs covered, even in warm weather
- be concerned about changing for PE or swimming
- look unkempt and uncared for
- change their eating habits
- have difficulty in making or sustaining friendships
- appear fearful
- be reckless with regard to their own or other's safety
- self-harm
- frequently miss school, arrive late or leave the school for part of the day
- show signs of not wanting to go home
- display a change in behaviour – from quiet to aggressive, or happy-go-lucky to withdrawn
- challenge authority
- become disinterested in their school work
- be constantly tired or preoccupied
- be wary of physical contact
- be involved in, or particularly knowledgeable about drugs or alcohol
- display sexual knowledge or behaviour beyond that normally expected for their age
- acquire gifts such as money or a mobile phone from new 'friends'.

Individual indicators will rarely, in isolation, provide conclusive evidence of abuse. They should be viewed as part of a jigsaw, and each small piece of information will help the DSP to decide how to proceed.
